

Fifty-five Lutheran Pastors Present At Palatine Conference

The northern district of the North Illinois Pastoral Conference closed an interesting series of sessions at noon, November 10. The sessions were held in the spacious beautiful church building of the Lutheran Congregation at Palatine, of which Rev. Dan Poellet has been faithful pastor for seven years. Incidentally the date of the conference coincides with the date of Pastor Poellet's induction into office in this congregation.

Rev. C. M. Noack of Arlington Heights served as chairman and Rev. W. G. Fechner of West Northfield acted in the capacity of secretary. The conference is composed of fifty-eight pastors from parts of Chicago and the north western suburbs. Fifty-five pastors were present. The good adies of the local congregation made splendid efforts to serve the pastors and the sentiments of thanks expressed by the chairman at the closing meal, gave proof of sincere appreciation on the part of the pastors.

The program was restricted exclusively to religious topics in accordance with the principles of the church. The Lutheran church does not spend its time dabbling in politics or making propaganda for purely moral and social issues. Lutheran pastors consider themselves called to minister to the spiritual needs of their fellowmen by the preaching of the saving Gospel of Jesus Christ. In accordance with this view of the spiritual nature of the work of the church the present conference devoted its time to discussions on doctrinal and practical questions. Following is the program in detail:

1. Opening service, Nov. 8 at 9:30 a. m.
2. Instructions for pastors in the pastoral epistles: Rev. J. C. Horsch.
3. Uniformity of practice in the ministerial work: P. W. Luecke.
4. The Schmalkald Articles.
5. Exegesis on Gal. 3, 15-22.

Wednesday evening a special communion service was conducted which was attended by the pastors and the congregation. Rev. H. Richter, of Park Ridge, delivered the confessional address and Rev. A. Reinke of Chicago spoke comforting words on the text: Ps. 126, 5. They that sow in tears shall reap in joy.

Much time was spent in a thorough discussion of the marriage and divorce evils creeping into the church. The principles of the Lutheran church on these burning issues were reaffirmed. Marriage according to Bible principle is a lifelong union between one man and one woman entered into by right of betrothal. This sacred union must not be entered into in a hasty or thoughtless manner, and once it has been contracted it cannot be rightfully broken and dissolved except on the grounds of adultery or malicious desertion. The conference was unanimous in its condemnation of the existing divorce evil and the light hearted view of the marriage relation.

The matter of home missions was ably presented by Rev. Wanzel of Chicago and an appeal was made for contribution to the church extension fund. This session of the conference was made noteworthy by the presence of the president of the Missouri Synod church of the Northern Illinois District, Rev. A. Ehrlich, of LaGrange, Ill., who spoke on the financial affairs of synod.

The conference closed Thursday noon and the pastors left for their respective fields of labor with new enthusiasm and courage for their high calling. The next session will be held in Rev. H. Richter's church at Park Ridge, in February, 1928.

Conference Football Championship Friday

The football championship of the Northwest conference may be decided this Friday, Armistice Day, when Antioch meets Libertyville upon the latter's grounds. Libertyville is now the only undefeated team in the conference and has the opportunity to secure the championship. In an announcement that was received this week by the various schools, the principal of the Libertyville schools says as follows:

"If your school will be dismissed and you do not have an athletic contest on the afternoon of Armistice Day, November 11, some of your students might be interested in knowing that we play Antioch on our field at two o'clock.

"As you probably know, Warren defeated Antioch 19-0 on Saturday, October 23, while Libertyville defeated Warren 13-12 on Friday, Nov. 4. If Libertyville wins the game Armistice Day, it will be the only undefeated team in the conference; but if Antioch wins, there will be a triple tie for first place by Antioch, Warren, and Libertyville."

J. A. BURLINGAME DIES SUDDENLY AT NEW HOME

Word has just been received that John A. Burlingame, for over forty years a prominent resident of Palatine, died at his home at Melbourne Beach, Florida, from a heart attack. Mr. Burlingame was a man active in public life and was for nineteen years a member of the board of education of Dist. 15. Mr. Burlingame was chairman of the finance committee of the board of education at the time of the building of the present school house. Mr. Burlingame had also served as Village Trustee and was president and active leader in the Palatine commercial association for many years.

The Burlingames have but recently sold their Palatine property and were looking forward to life in Florida and pleasant visits next summer to Mr. Burlingame's old home in the east.

Details of Mr. Burlingame's sudden death are not complete as this paper goes to press, but the Enterprise knows that it is voicing the sentiment of all when it extends to the sorrowing relatives the sympathy of this community and knows that in Mr. Burlingame's death Palatine has lost a loyal friend and a former citizen whose thought was always for the best interests of his fellow men and his community.

Mr. Burlingame was a member and past master of Palatine Lodge No. 314 A. F. & A. M.

FARMERS BAND TO HALT FREE LANCE HUNTER

Farmers close to Chicago are tiring of the actions of free lance hunters from Chicago who shoot anything they see and find out what it is afterward. Bob Becker, hunting expert tells in the accompanying article from the Chicago Tribune how DuPage county farmers and officials have joined to do away with this evil. Farmers of northern Cook and southern Lake county might well take the same measures of self protection.

Pheasant and rabbit hunters who are planning on expeditions Thursday morning, Nov. 10, the opening day of the season, had better watch their steps in DuPage county, as Sheriff Lawrence Hattendorf, cooperating with the DuPage county farmers' protective association, has planned a vigorous campaign against roving free lance hunters who, ignoring "no trespass" signs, invade farmers' lands without permission.

In addition to his own deputies, who will be scattered through the county, the sheriff's forces will be augmented by a large number of special deputies doing duty for the farmers' organization, so hunters violating the "no trespass" law or the game code are pretty apt to get a free ride for a costly visit to a justice of the peace.

Battle of Booze and Cans of Sterno—Jail

"Canned heat," in other words Sterno, may be all right for some purposes, but for others it's all wrong. When it comes to being used to heat camp stoves, etc., it fails a useful purpose. When it is used to heat up auto drivers on cold days, its use is not only questionable, but dangerous.

When a couple of fellows with a combination of Sterno and bottled booze were picked up Monday night between Palatine and Barrington, it was thought best by the police department to hold them in storage until the "canned heat" could have a chance to wear off.

One of those who was gloriously hot up tried to quench the fires within by pouring down several milk bottles of water and if he had kept on threatening to lower the Palatine water supply very noticeably. The canned heat enthusiast was given plenty of opportunity to cool off and let the fires die out while a guest in the local jail. Sterno or "Canned heat" is a favorite substitute for booze. They filter the alcohol from the mixture and use it to drink.

Local drug stores are pestered to death with calls for Sterno from some of the most disreputable bums "hitting the ties."

The old hobo hotel which was burned down Halloween night, was the scene of many "canned heat" parties and it may have been the result of some of this heat which caused it to blaze forth in the last dying spurge of the old P. L. Z. & W. The bums say that canned heat is awful stuff and it might readily have had a part in the big bonfire of the other evening—and then again it might not.

Farmers Meet; Organize Protective Association

As the Enterprise goes to press the farmers of this territory are meeting at the Palatine Village Hall to hear the report of Tom Underwood and William Senn, as to the disposition of the fund collected to help run down the recent cattle thieves. The meeting tonight may be productive of a permanent organization among the farmers which will be ready to handle quickly and efficiently any such cases in the future. There is a keen interest among the farmers and a good attendance is gathered at the Palatine hall to discuss the matter. A full account of the meeting will appear in the Cook County Herald next week.

OBITUARY

CARL DIEBALL

Carl Dieball entered life December 1, 1864 in Laurenburg, Pomerania, Germany. In 1885 he was united in holy wedlock with Albertina Behke. This union was blessed with six children of which one child passed into eternal rest.

The year 1891 saw the immigration of the family into this land of opportunity. Their first and only home was established in the vicinity of Arlington Heights. Thru-out the years, Mr. Dieball enjoyed the best of health, but since spring a chronic disease developed from which he was not to recover. Last Saturday evening the Lord relieved him of great suffering and ushered him into everlasting rest. His mortal remains were laid to rest in the Lutheran cemetery. Pastors Noack and Fricke preached the funeral addresses in the German and English languages respectively.

He reached an age of 62 years, 11 months and 4 days. He leaves to mourn his loss, his widow, two sons, three daughters, and five grandchildren.

Eleven o'Clock

Pheasant Season Keeps Palatine Judge Very Busy

With the opening Thursday a. m. of the 1927 pheasant season business at Judge Harz court room took a decided boom. With game warden Deverman, Constable Meyer, the Palatine police department and several game wardens from other localities on the job to help out the local officers violations of the state game code were in for a bad time.

Warden Devermann scored first with an arrest for shooting a hen pheasant. Constable Meyer and an outside warden reached the court room neck and neck with victims, who had shot a Hungarian partridge and a trespass case respectively.

The hen pheasant shooter made bond and was released for trial later, the partridge expert got $25 and costs and had a great time calling his Chicago bank to guarantee his check. The trespasser gave up $15 and costs for the good of the state of Illinois and the judge and all left the court room much wiser in their knowledge of the game code and with a whole some respect for the law officers of the Palatine territory.

The fellow who shot the partridge was doubly out of luck as he had paid a farmer $5 for the privilege of shooting the partridge on said farmer's land. As the violator paid over the $25 and costs a friend remarked "just look at all the turkeys you could buy for that $30.00."

Promiscuous hunting by the foreigners from Chicago is a pest and a menace to farmers.

Farm Animals Shot

Herman Krefl a farmer south of Palatine noticed a horse breaking out with little blisters on its side. Investigation revealed that the horse had been shot and Mr. Krefl extracted 20 shots from the animal. Mr. Krefl also lost a cow recently and from an ulcer on the animal extracted a rifle bullet. Local farmers might well do as the farmers of DuPage county are doing in the formation of a huge protective association.

Judge Harz was so busy Thursday that some cement work he was attempting to complete at home was sadly interrupted by the frequent calls to his court room.

Two Judges Busy

As the end of the first days hunting of pheasants drew near, game violation cases were coming in so fast that Judge W. W. Stroker, who has been taking a vacation from the bench, was pressed into service to hear some of the cases and the outlook for big business for the judges is bright with the season just starting.

Several extra game wardens assigned to this territory to assist warden Deverman, will make life a burden for violators.

Chicago's population is announced to be 3,741,910. When Horace Greeley said "Go west, young man, go west" he evidently meant Chicago.

If this plane, "The Dawn" keeps on rising in false starts, it may break, like its namesake.

Counterfeit Twenty Dollar Bills Found Here

Counterfeit $20 bills are in circulation and at least one has been discovered and its circulation ended by a Palatine bank. The Treasury Department recently issued the following circular letter in regard to this series of counterfeits which are a neat job of counterfeiting and would pass almost anyone except experienced bankers and others used to handling large numbers of bills constantly.

Dangerous Counterfeit

The Treasury Department in a recent circular letter describes a new counterfeit as follows:

"On the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, Texas 1914 series; check letter 'A'; face plate No. 37; back plate No. 896; Frank White, Treasurer of the United States; A. W. Mellon Secretary of the Treasury; portrait of Cleveland.

This is a dangerous counterfeit produced by photo-mechanical process and printed on two sheets of thin paper between which silk threads have been distributed. The portrait, while well-executed, does not stand out in relief as in the genuine, merging with cross-hatch lines in the background. The fine white lines in the border are not clearly defined and the appearance of the face of the note generally is too dark. The face and back plates are nearly one-eighth of an inch longer than in the genuine. Under rough usage, this counterfeit will split. Specimen at hand bears serial No. K546993A.

In view of the deceptive character of this counterfeit, care should be exercised in handling notes of this denomination.

Arlington Heights Is Coaled up for Winter

Local supply dealers report that the Arlington Heights coal bins are well filled. The householders are better protected against a raise in coal prices or a shortage than on any other recent winter. The coal was placed in the bins at bottom prices. The dealers are further protecting their customers by storing large quantities of fuel. This is encouraging news for all of us, and we will all feel better about it when the bills for all this coal are stamped "paid."

The dealers like very rough usage, this counterfeit will split. Specimen at hand bears serial No. K546993A.

O. G. Barrett, Cook county farm adviser was a Palatine caller the first of the week. Mr. Barrett is a man thoroughly versed in his work and since he has taken over the direction of the farm bureau work in Cook county the farm bureau is once more becoming one of the leading farm organizations in the county.

If this plane, "The Dawn" keeps on rising in false starts, it may break, like its namesake.

DEER HUNTING NOT EASY WORK SAYS DOCTOR

Vacations! Are they productive of health and does the average man need to rest up when he returns to his job. Dr. J. H. Renner, of Palatine favors vacations and believes that the right kind of a vacation should be invigorating.

At least the doctor returned home Sunday from his vacation the picture of health and full of pep. His step is more springy and he is taking up his work with a new zest.

His "I had the time of my life," tells the story, but his friends are particularly interested in the details of that deer.

Our reporter was after a deer story and there are so many interesting things about the doctor's trip, we know the readers of the Enterprise will want to hear about them.

In the first place, Dr. Renner, when he left Palatine Oct. 2, with a new Oakland landau sedan had no intention of making it an Oakland demonstration journey, but the Oakland performed so well he is ready to say as much about that car, as he is about the deer that he brought back 250 miles from the hunting grounds to Bolder, Colorado, where he had left his family.

Mr. Renner was accompanied upon his trip by Mrs. Renner and his daughter. They were equipped for camping but aside from a "trunk" that was placed upon the rear of his car, he carried no outside luggage. No big mileage attempts were made. They drove from Palatine to Bolder, 250 miles further into the mountain range to the hunting grounds and thence to Louisiana and back home, a distance of 6,000 miles. They had no trouble with the car and only two punctures. Incidentally after leaving Palatine and two days of rain at the outset of their journey, they encountered no rain until a day out of New Orleans on the return journey. The car when driven into Palatine last Sunday had as much the appearance of a new car as it did when it left home. The doctor says that the Oakland furnished part of the joy of that trip.

There are several things that stand out in Dr. Renner's mind about that trip. The first is the courtesy that is shown in the west to the traveling autoist by the speed cops. Instead of a foreign license plate being the target for an easy arrest, as is often so in some Illinois towns, the autoist from a distance in the other states he visited gets more than a fair show.

The next thing that appealed to the doctor was the manner in which the gravel roads are maintained in some of the western states. With constant dragging of the roads, it is impossible to have roads full of holes. He found it as pleasant riding in the western states as it is in the patrolled roads of Wisconsin.

Entering Iowa thru Dubuque, he found the Iowa roads very good and well surfaced. The Nebraska roads were equally as good. There is not much wealth in that state but it manages to protect its highways. Oklahoma was in the same condition. Arriving at their destination, Bolder, Colorado, the doctor's party found themselves at the foot of Arapahoe mountain range. Three blocks from the doctor's house, the mountains start to rise. The scenery is wonderful, but Dr. Renner was not looking for scenery upon this trip. He was after a deer. Arriving at Bolder on Friday, the doctor was joined by a friend and the two started out in the Oakland car on Saturday for a trip 250 miles in the mountains.

That trip was the most wonderful part of the journey. The doctor says that he was never so tired

Road Dedication Gives Palatine Direct Route To Higgins Road

Palatine's chances to secure a direct paved route to Higgins Road and ultimately further south, were greatly benefited this week when final dedication of papers for the Plum Grove Ave. extension were presented to the county highway department.

The next step will be the grading and paving of the highway. United effort upon the part of all factions with the powers that be, should bring results. The contract for that grading should be let at once in order that it can be done early next year. Delay is dangerous.

The farmers have done their part by donating the land. It is now up to the people of Palatine to get behind the project.

Farm Bureau Advisers Meet at the Heights

Farm advisers of the farm bureau of Lake, McHenry, Cook, DuPage and Kane counties, with other prominent farm bureau men of northeastern corner of Illinois, met at Arlington Heights Wednesday, Nov. 9, in an all day session. Two or three such meetings are held each year in the various sections of the state under the auspices of the Illinois Agricultural association. H. C. Vail acted as chairman of the meeting.

The men considered problems confronting the state association. Auto insurance was particularly discussed as well as the choice of the next man for secretary of the state association. Prominent speakers were present and the men showed a lot of interest as it was after dark before final adjournment was taken.

Roll Call of Red Cross Sounded November 11

The eleventh annual roll call of the American Red Cross commences Armistice Day, November 11th and continues until Thanksgiving Day, November 23rd. A house to house canvass will be made in Arlington Heights next week. Mrs. Crowley is chairman.

We are taking this opportunity to call the attention of the citizens of this territory to some of the activities of the chapter. During the last 12 months the Chicago chapter has given relief and service to 3,703 ex-service men, nearly 5,000 other veterans have been recipients of minor service and 333 enlisted men of the army or navy have been helped. The entire work of the war department of the chapter has touched 14,853 families, and the number of individuals in these families is 51,985. Most of the war work of the chapter at this time is for disabled veterans, and although we are nine years removed from the war this service constitutes a very big activity as is shown by the above figures.

Disabled relief, of course, is one of the major activities of the Red Cross at this time and during the past 12 months the public has entrusted to the organization more than $20,000,000 in relief funds. The Mississippi valley fund was over $17,000,000 and it was not too much in view of the fact that more than 600,000 refugees had to be bed, sheltered and given medical attention over a period of many weeks. The flooded work is still being carried on in the Mississippi valley and on in the Mississippi valley fund will not be closed for some weeks to come. After the last visit by Herbert Hoover he made a statement that no one had gone hungry or without clothing or shelter as the result of the disaster.

Clamage Heads Legion in County

Edward Clamage, for the last three years commander of Forges post of the American Legion and vice-president of the Cook County council, was elected president of the council.

The assistants elected to carry on the work of the council with President Clamage are: A. C. Linenthal of Ravenswood post as senior commander, John R. Caldwell of Harold Taylor post, finance officer, and John Brown of Van Buren post as sergeant at arms.

Arlington Heights To Catch Oldest City in America

It has taken St. Augustine, the oldest city in America 400 years to secure a population of 7,500 inhabitants. Arlington Heights, only 75 years old did not grow very fast for many years, but it will pass St. Augustine within the next five years, says H. Benke, a photographer, who has been doing a lot of photograph work for local real estate firms. He says that he was in that old city last winter and the total building operation included two new houses and two front porches. Perhaps the city is so old that it can not grow any more.

With the signing this week of the necessary legal papers, rights of way have been secured for an extension of Plum Grove Ave. south to the Higgins road. This road has been a subject of much discussion and a lot of hard work for the past two years and with the final signing of papers assuring the right of way Palatine is given a southern outlet of great importance. The last signatures obtained cleared the right of way from the Algonquin road to the Higgins road. The right of way through Plum Grove to the Algonquin road had been previously obtained after a great deal of negotiating and litigation.

The right of way for the extension of Plum Grove Ave. will be 66 feet wide and in accepting a 66 foot right of way the county board has made a special concession in this instance. The county board had made a rule some time ago that no more rights of way for important roads on section lines would be accepted at less than one hundred feet but a special concession was made in the Plum Grove Ave. case probably because the early negotiations had been on the basis of 66 feet. Great credit for the acceptance of this road at 66 feet must be given to President Anton J. Cermak of the county board who is a staunch friend of this territory and to William Busse chairman of the road and bridge committee of the county board. Both of these officials are ever mindful of the well and of the people of this territory.

The securing of the right of way for the extension of Plum Grove Ave. has been accomplished through the untiring efforts of several citizens of this community. Many of the farmers whose lands are crossing by the proposed road were favorable to the project from the start, others were skeptical or opposed to the proposition. All now seem very enthusiastic for the road and hope for its early completion.

Henry Wildhagen has been an ardent booster for this road from the very first and has worked hard in the securing of the right of way. Assessor F. P. Danielson has been another who has worked untiringly for the new road.

Mr. Wildhagen, with E. P. Steinbrink of the First National Bank were instrumental in securing the signatures to the final papers.

Ralph L. Peck took care of the many legal details involved in the securing of the right of way and many other citizens have helped in one way or another to at last bring about the extension of Plum Grove Ave., which will give Palatine an outlet to the south.

Just when work will commence on the actual opening of the road is not known now when the new road will be placed upon the paving program but with the clearing away of all obstacles and the completion of the details of securing the right of way, a great step forward has been taken and a southern outlet for Palatine and this territory is now assured.

Opens Wall Paper And Paint Store In Nearby City

The Arlington Heights Wall Paper and Paint Store has a twin brother, Orville Baldwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. Weber, has opened up a similar store at 713 Center Street, DesPlaines. A similar stock will be carried as is handled at Arlington Heights. The two stores will give an enlarged outlet for wall paper and paints, which will enable them to buy in larger quantities and at considerable savings in prices, which they intend to pass on to their customers. Mr. Baldwin has moved to DesPlaines.

HUNTING NO FUN SAYS PHYSICIAN

in all his life. Sometimes the pace set by his companion was so fast that he had to resort to subterfuge in order to have the opportunity to gain a few minutes in which to rest. His pride would not allow him to let his friend know of his fatigue, but he enjoyed every minute of it.

Hunting deer is hard work. The doctor spent three days in preparation and within an hour after the season opened, he had his deer. Another three days was consumed in getting the two deer that he and his partner had obtained, down the mountain and back to civilization.

The laws of Colorado permit only one buck of two or more points to a hunter. This means that the buck must be over two years old. No females can be shot. A charge of $25 is made for non-resident licenses. The game warden does not attempt to go into the mountain remaining at the points where the hunters return to civilization.

The law regarding the kind of deer that can be shot, serves as a protection to the hunters as no man is going to shoot at only a moving object which has often caused many a hunter's death in the Wisconsin woods.

Greater care is necessary in stalking a deer than any other animal. Upon the slightest noise or the sight of any moving object they leap great distances. It is nothing for them to jump over small trees or bushes six or seven feet high. From a distance of two miles, they will watch a suspicious object and when finally that object moves, they are again off.

Dr. Renner found more fascination in watching the deer than he did in hunting them. Armed with powerful binoculars he was able to get some excellent views.

At three a. m. of the opening of the season, the doctor and his associate left camp and found their way up the mountain. Dr. Renner stationed himself upon one side of the mountain ridge and his friend upon the other. The doctor lay in wait until sunrise and about seven o'clock, a buck appeared only a short distance away. It was not as large as he would have desired, but the doctor felt that the gods would not always be so good to him and he brought the animal down with the first shot. The animal rolled down a large part of the mountain and the doctor after him. He says that it has been many a day since he has slid down a cedar door, but he demonstrated upon that downward journey that he could still do such an act.

After killing his deer and bleeding it, the hunter is required to tag it with his license card and then go to the foot of a mountain to secure help to bring the animal down. Dr. Renner's partner got his deer about noon that day, but they were unable to get their deer down until the following morning.

Only about 25 per cent of the hunters secure deer which seems strange when one considers that they are nearly all home hunters. Dr. Renner was the only non-resident who secured a license at Boulder.

Dr. Renner rejoined his family on Saturday and the following day the Oakland was headed towards Louisiana, where they visited one of the doctor's friends. A short stop was made at Pike's Peak and Pueblo. Passing thru Kansas, they entered Oklahoma at the time of the cotton harvest. A great number of negroes and whites are engaged in this work. At the first cotton field reached, Mrs. Renner insisted upon stopping and picking some herself. They inspected the gin and baling process. Our party passed thru a large part of Texas going as far south as Ft. Worth and Dallas.

Dr. Renner nearly fell in love with that state. We northerners are accustomed to consider that state a great waste with a few oil fields scattered about. Dr. Renner found beautiful homes, that approached mansions in size, surrounded by palms and banana trees. The doctor admits that all Texas is not like that, but during his entire trip he remembers only the nice things.

The trip was educational—even for a doctor. After becoming acquainted with the cotton fields in Oklahoma, he inspected the turnpike industry in Texas, then followed the rice fields in Louisiana. The sulphur mines were interesting. That product is dug directly out of the ground. Upon one tract of several acres the sulphur deposit was 400 feet thick. The Jennings oil fields were likewise inspected. This field has been in operation twenty years.

Some of our readers may wonder where all the salt comes from. Dr. Renner saw piles of it 60 to 80 feet high and a steam shovel handling it the same as cellars are excavated up in Illinois.

Dr. Renner has purchased Celotex, but he never before saw such quantities of it in its raw state. It is estimated that two thirds of the sugar cane, or refuse from sugar making is manufactured into such a product.

Louisiana is also the land of fruit and the doctor enjoyed some real oranges and lemons that are not to be purchased up in Illinois.

There was another thing that interested the doctor about the south. There is no rush for money. It is surprising how much service can be secured for fifty cents. The doctor does not call these people lazy. They are just enjoying the few years they have on this earth, which is a lot more than even doctors do.

But all vacations must come to an end and the doctor and his party started for home along the eastern side of the Mississippi, crossing that river at Memphis, into Arkansas, thence thru Missouri and then Illinois. The party passed thru the flooded districts and found the people working hard to recover their loss. The farmers are being taught to grow small crops and the Red Cross insists that people who are helped shall likewise help themselves.

The doctor drove into Palatine shortly after dinner last Sunday. You ask about the deer? It was shipped from Colorado to Palatine, where it resided in the refrigerator at the Schmidt market awaiting the arrival home of its owner.

Various other Halloween games were played, and a good lunch was served and everyone had a great time.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Spoerlen, Mr. and Mrs. George Nickel, Mr. George Raupp, Susan and Marie Raupp, and Albert Nickel of Buffalo Grove; Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Johnson, Willie Schoenwerk of Chicago and Miss Alma Nickel of Arlington Heights.

Chinese New Year

On the occasion of the new year, the Chinese exchange the greeting "Kung Hai Fat Tsai," meaning "Congratulations; may you collect wealth." The word "tsai" meaning "wealth," is repeated by them numerous times. During the celebration of the new year, all secret societies and guilds, whose rivalry is often very bitter, declare a "Truce of the Gods," when no man may attack his brother. This is generally respected by both the hunter and the hunted, who are glad of a relief.

Kitty Korner surprised everybody by coming out of the basement long enough to show the leaders, Edelweiss, off the roof for three straight games. Perhaps the new shirts of Kitty Korner had something to do with their strength. They wear white shirts with a black cat upon the back.

Kehe Motors took three games from Metz Cabs. The cabbies only had three passengers instead of the usual five, but their meter was traveling so fast that they were only nosed out by a few pins. Their team mates from Des Plaines failed to show up.

Stenke took two from Lunning and Lunning's five have been cast some envious eyes at the Edelweiss, the leaders, but their joy at the defeat of the latter was dimmed by the fact that they in turn lost two, which all goes to show that even a candy man should not begin counting his chickens before he buys a chicken coop.

Blatz took two games from the Arlington Elevators. The Sweet Shop lost two to the People's State Bank. Tied with the Jewelers for first place last week, they have dropped down one peg. The Jewelers took two from Koehlers, who covered them with snow at the first game, but the watchmakers came to life in the second and there was neither snow nor dust around them thereafter.

How about the Arlington Five this year, let's talk it up a bit.

Arlington Heights High School

This morning at 11 o'clock an appropriate program in observance of Armistice Day, will be held at the Arlington Heights high school. All students and teachers will assemble in the auditorium.

The program is arranged as follows:

Bugle Taps—Herman McElhose. Silent prayer (2 minutes). America—School.

Introduction of speaker—Walter Meyer.

Address—Rev. E. Lester Staunton.

Music—Orthophonic.

Salute to Flag—Led by Boy Scouts.

Star Spangled Banner—School.

At the close of this event school will be dismissed for the remainder of the day.

MELODY MAKERS

Slow, but steady progress has been made within the last month to form a music club for all interested students of the school. The result of effort expended is very gratifying for some twenty-five students have organized and call themselves the Melody Makers.

Although business is not the most important factor, officers are necessary. Those chosen are: Irene Brutsch, president; Ethel Hertel, vice president; Joe Werdowatz, secretary; Violet Lunning, treasurer.

Meetings are held every other Thursday after school, and two members of the faculty are invited to attend. Next week the Melody Makers will meet on Tuesday afternoon instead of Thursday. A program will be given by members and will consist of piano selections, a string trio, and vocal numbers.

Each member is to provide a current event concerning music. In this way knowledge of musical activity all over the world is gained. A report of Schubert's life will be given by Bernice Gathrow.

Miss Helen Marie Roast is advisor of the club.

CLASS MEETINGS

On Monday morning, November 7, the senior class conducted a meeting. Minutes of the previous meeting were read, and old business was cleared up. A report by the treasurer showed that $44.60 was made on the Halloween Carnival.

After all the new business was disposed of, a motion was made that a donation of $20 be made to the piano fund. It was moved and carried. The election of the Senior staff for the school publicity was then in order.

The following people were elected: Margaret Helwig, chairman; Bernice Gathrow, Ed Wahl.

The meeting then adjourned.

THE JUNIORS

After completing old business, new accomplishments were realized. Because of Violet Lunning's plan to depart next week for a visit in California, it was necessary to elect a new secretary. This was done, resulting in the selection of Wallace Mors for the office.

The treasurer's monthly report showed a balance of $37.00.

A motion to contribute $5 to the piano fund then was entertained and carried.

A publicity committee from our class now includes: Willert Hartman, chairman; Steve Brodman, and Fred Hertel.

The meeting was called to a close by the class president, Richard Best.

A successful meeting of the sophomore class was held on Monday morning. The treasurer reported $55 in the treasury, a goodly amount of this sum having been made at the Halloween Carnival.

The class decided to donate $15.00 to the school piano fund.

In response to a request for a class publicity committee, Raymond Meyer was elected chairman, with Howard Prosser and Dorothy Helm assisting.

THE "FRESHIES"

The freshman class meeting held on Monday morning was great. Paul Cordulack, secretary, read the financial report of the Carnival from which our class netted $12.

Bernice Dietrick, president and Clarence McKaig, reported that flowers were sent to Louis Angeloff, who was seriously injured a few weeks ago. A class letter is soon to be sent Louis to let him know we all are thinking of him.

The publicity committee chosen from our class is: Florence Proctor, chairman; Clifford Bell, Eleanor Fee, Marion Meyer, and Arthur Long.

Now freshmen, everybody, let's get together for some real news, lots of it, every kind pertaining to our activities. Something like Marion washing dishes; excitement supplied by Johnny helping get supper. Ha!

Say folks! How did you like the Carnival? That's fine. I knew it would turn out that way. Things always turn out the way you take them so take this in the same way.

Now I must leave space for other news, but in closing let me ask you to watch next Friday's paper for our notes.

GOOD COOKS! UHM!

Ever since the third week of the school season, with kind permission of the board of education, teachers at the high school have been having their noon meal in the domestic science room. The food is prepared for them by the morning class, but it is their duty to serve themselves and worse than that, wash the dishes.

Wednesday noon of this week a festive treat was bestowed upon the faculty for the girls in the morning class not only prepared a bountiful luncheon, but served it in quite the accepted form and made themselves responsible for that awful aftermath—dishes!

You might be interested in reading the menu. Here it is: Tomato soup, water, chipped beef, on toast, browned potatoes, fruit salad, whipped cream, nut bread, coffee.

The girls who made this possible with Miss Clark's kind assistance are: Gladys Bradley, Louise George, Eleanor Fredericks, Genevieve Kahl, Gertrude Weinrich, Phoebe Meyer, Irene Brutsch, Josephine Kahl, Aloysia Welnske, Florence Goege.

Two tyrants for dramatic club have been held. About 30 persons have been admitted to membership. A meeting for the purpose of organization was held Thursday evening after school.

Miss Edith Lindsey, Miss Dorothea Koepnick and Miss Esther Kossack were judges of the try-out.

Intermediate School Is 100 Per Cent In Red Cross Drive

The pupils of the Arlington Heights elementary and intermediate school have again done their bit for the orphans of the world war veterans. Every room is 100 per cent members of the junior red cross. The money collected will be used for orphans of the men who gave their lives in the recent war. Practically every pupil in the school contributed five cents or more to the fund, which is nearly $17.00. Each room will receive a copy of the Junior Red Cross magazine, which has a lot of good material that interests the school child.

Observe Armistice Day

Special Armistice Day programs will be held in the various rooms of the schools at 11 o'clock this Friday morning. School will close at noon and not reopen until Tuesday morning as the teachers will attend a teachers institute on Monday at Evanston.

Girl Scouts Active

Miss Fern Lorenzen is doing as fine work with the girl scouts as is being accomplished in the boy scout troops. They meet every Tuesday evening in the southside school, which has an assembly room that is particularly good for such purposes. The girls are practically entirely equipped with uniforms and other appurtenances needed in their work. Miss Lorenzen attended last summer a training camp for leaders of girl scout troops, and is doing excellent work with the girls.

Sewing in School

The girls of the 6th, 7th and 8th grade are becoming very proficient with the needle. Miss Lewis instructs the girls of the 6th and 8th grades and Mrs. Brown the girls of the 7th grade. The instruction is very thorough. The girls first study materials which are most suitable for the different garments; then the harmony of colors is studied and their relationship to the garments.

Girls to Have Gym Periods

Mr. Whitmore is hoping to be able to make arrangements whereby the girls of the intermediate school will have gymnasium facilities, the same as the boys. The latter have the use of the high school gymnasium from 6:30 to 7:30 p. m. three nights a week.

OUR WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

After more than four hectic years in office, President Coolidge finds himself in a position to enjoy his job. Observers here feel that Mr. Coolidge will have the time of his life from now until the expiration of his term on March 4, 1929.

There is evidence that the wall of silence which he purposely erected and maintained when he assumed the responsibilities as chief executive will be gradually torn down and the public given a better insight into the man and his methods.

The President has made it clear that he is quite capable of presenting his own opinions to the country. Official Washington continues to chuckle as Mr. Coolidge quite frankly and fearlessly reveals the follies of acclamation by which many men in high public office are attempting to hold their place in the spotlight.

The hand of Herbert Hoover, engineer, is seen in a proposal to revise legislation which would consolidate all the public works functions of the government. There is nothing new in the proposal, but it indicates that Mr. Hoover has won over Dr. Work, Secretary of the Interior, whose departmental activities would be vitally affected by a consolidation. Under existing authority Secretary Hoover has already effected certain transfers of governmental bureaus, but congressional authorization is necessary to complete the reorganization. For a time it was proposed to establish a new cabinet post, but now it seems that a major division of public works will be established in Department of the Interior to supervise the principal engineering activities of the Federal government.

The agitation for a six year term for the President has cropped up. The proposal will be presented to Congress in December. It will be necessary to adopt a constitutional amendment, which is admittedly a difficult task. The plan is to make the Presidency a one-term position. Somehow the public is not keenly interested in the project as yet.

How to Earn $500 In One Month

Those who have seen some of the rehearsals say that this play is likely to win about as much praise as Safety First which the Tri-Sigmas gave some time ago. It is filled with the brightness of youth and will surely make a real hit with an Arlington Heights audience.

Everybody is curious to see what the new Ford looks like, particularly the executives of the General Motors.

A California town is planning a saxophone field day with 500 entrants—now, how in the world can you blame the climate for that.

If you'd like to learn how to get rich quick, you better not miss the Tri-Sigma play Nov. 22. Jack Yorke, the youth with the persuasive tongue, works out a plan for himself and three chums to make $500 each in a month. The plan is a clever one and one that actually brings in the money.

The plan will, of course, be kept a secret until Nov. 22, but you certainly will be willing to pay 50 cents to learn how to make $500.

The Tri-Sigmas had hoped that they might give all their plays this year on their own stage in the new community house, but this will not be ready for some time yet, so this play will be given in the high school. Special attention is being given to the stage settings which lend themselves to some rather unexpected surprises.

THE final care of one so long loved, so endeared and so close to our hearts should be indeed as tender, thoughtful and thorough as in all the time before. It is more than appropriate, more than a custom and a duty. It is sacred. The final care should be placed in trustful hands of character; and where sympathy and understanding ability combine with every high quality of equipment essential to so serve, with every best care attending.

The year just closed with the chamber has been a successful one, although the first year of their existence and they promise to be the most active group of men in the village. ### ALBERT BUSSE LEARNS MUCH BUICK FACTORY

Albert E. Busse of Wm. Busse & Son, Inc., Buick dealers has just returned from Flint, Mich., where he spent two days as a guest of the Buick Motor Company. Buick is entertaining the majority of its 3,800 dealers at the factory and the famous General Motors Proving Ground this fall, at the rate of about 250 a week.

Mr. Albert E. Busse made the trip in a special Pullman train, along with the other dealers in the Chicago branch territory. The dealers reached Flint early Monday morning, their train pulling onto a siding near the Buick factory. The party, numbering about 125 men, was met by Buick executives divided into groups of a dozen or so each, provided with guides, and started at once on an inspection tour through the plants.

Except for luncheon, which was served at the Hotel Durant, the tour occupied the entire day. The luncheon was attended by E. T. Strong, president of the Buick Motor Company, C. W. Churchill, general sales manager, and other Buick executives, who address the visiting dealers on various sales and service problems, and congratulated the dealers for their part in making this by far the greatest of all Buick years.

The next day the dealers landed at the Proving Ground, which lies a few miles from the nearby town of Milford. Here they were shown the testing through which Buick goes constantly, to safeguard its position of quality leadership. After a day crammed with incident, they left for home.

"It's hard to say which was more amazing, the factory or the proving ground," said Mr. Albert E. Busse. "Each was a wonderful experience and a genuine treat. The day at the factory brought home the marvelous efficiency of Buick manufacture and explained how it is that Buick can offer such startling values. We saw the conscientious care that goes into the making of every Buick car,—the relentless tests which insure that every one is right when it goes out,—and we gained some conception of the enormous resources this policy has enabled Buick to develop."

"I was especially impressed at the way machinery has taken the place of man power, whose work it does more quickly and more accurately than men. Movement of parts, in their transformation from raw material into finished cars, is taken care of by a system of conveyors of marvelous ingenuity, each designed perfectly for its own particular job. They run from operation to operation, and from plant to plant, in what seems like a hopeless maze; yet their movement is perfectly coordinated, and their combined effect is efficiency itself."

"For all its machinery, Buick employs almost 30,000 workers. Its factory is nearly two miles long and several blocks wide; it has its own fire and police departments, its own water and telephone systems, in short, it is a good sized city in itself."

"We were delighted to see the proving ground, because we had heard so much about it. The visit set us straight on one point: the proving ground was not established to set a stamp of approval on General Motors cars, to prove them good, as rumor sometimes has it, but to put those cars through the most rigid tests, in comparison with all other cars made, so they may perform with the best at all times."

"Buick keeps a big fleet there constantly, going through the roughest sort of grind, so that performance may be constantly bettered. These Buicks average 900 miles a day apiece the year around, which gives some idea of the tests through which they are put."

"The demonstration of Buick roadsters upon the speed loop was amazing. I did not know before an automobile could go so fast. "I think all the dealers in the territory felt that the visit was the experience of a life time. For myself the visit to the plant and the proving ground, and our contact with Buick's builders, made me mightily proud of my connection with Buick. It put a real significance in the slogan: 'When Better Automobiles are Built, Buick Will Build Them.' We've got inside information now, that Buick 'doesn't mean maybe.'"

Along with the regular English services at St. Matthew's Evangelical Lutheran church Sunday, Nov. 20, will be celebrated holy communion in the English language. Announcement will be Friday, Nov. 18.

Fifty relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Geweke helped Mr. Geweke celebrate his birthday anniversary Friday evening, Nov. 4. A pleasant time was had at bunco. Mrs. Albert Ahrens won first prize. A delightful birthday luncheon topped off an enjoyable evening.

Misses Florence and Elva Toepel were hostesses to several girl friends at a week-end party Nov. 5 and 6. Present were Miss Barbara Miller and Hulda Schreiber of Libertyville; Ruth Niebuhr and Martha Schutte of Mt. Prospect and Florence Selle of East Maine.

Although the weather last Saturday was anything but pleasant, it did not seem to have much effect on the size or spirits of the crowd attending the auction sale of John Weber on Golf avenue. Enthusiastic bidding enabled Mr. Weber to dispose of large variety of farm tools and implements at substantial prices. The Weber family are planning to move to Evanston. Their friends in this community will miss them.

Many folks from this neighborhood attended the services held at St. John's Lutheran church of Niles Sunday, celebrating the 25th anniversary of their church. Very interesting sermons were given by pastors from sister congregations and visiting choirs added much to the beauty and enjoyment of the services, making the occasion one not so soon to be forgotten.

During the past week or more, several other East Mainites have left this vicinity to carry on the gardening industry in different localities. Leo Jaacks and family have moved to their new home near Arlington Heights, which has just been completed and made ready for occupancy. At the same time Mr. and Mrs. Emil Koch have moved to the farm on Howard avenue, formerly occupied by Christ J. Struck. Best wishes for success in the new fields accompany both families.

Saturday, November 5, was the 30th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ahrens. They had intended to let the day pass by without any celebration, but their large number of neighbors and friends thought differently and that evening the entire crowd, in masquerade regalia, gathered at the Wm. Wilke home and proceeded from there to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ahrens and most successfully surprised the honored couple. Such a good time as the crowd had, the night had been stretched into the early morning hours before the last of the merry-makers had departed.

dramatic reading of the remarkable war story by Hall Caine: "The Woman of Knockaloe." The plot is laid on the Isle of Mann, the boyhood home of the author. As a study in war psychology, it is a marvel. If, fifty years after hearing this story you have forgotten it, you will earn a diamond studded crown. Invite your friends.

We are glad to announce that on Thanksgiving Day at 8:30 a. m. at our church there will be a Thanksgiving service. We are being joined by the Congregational church, as usual, and the Rev. Smith will bring the message of the hour. The Methodist choir will render special music. You will have more to thank God for, that day if you take time to thank Him at this service.

Sunday morning, Nov. 20, we will bring food and clothes for the children of the Italian mission in Chicago, as we have been doing for years. Our Thanksgiving offering last year for this cause, in material and money brought us a receipt for $64.00.

If any of our folks would like to entertain children from the Italian Mission over Thanksgiving Day as some of our people did last year, please let the pastor know as soon as possible, so that plans may be made.

Pullman, visited at the Welflin home on Sunday.

Wheeling chapter O. E. S. are having their annual bazaar and card and bunco party at the Riverside Inn on Wednesday evening, Nov. 16. Admission, including refreshments, 50 cents.

Sarah E. Stryker

Mrs. Sarah E. Stryker, nee Wendling, wife of the late Christian Stryker, died at the home of her daughter in Evanston on Nov. 3. Her parents were pioneers of Wheeling township, having come from Warren, Pa., about 1835. She was born in Wheeling, July 1, 1846 and passed away at the age of 81 years, 4 months and 2 days. She was the youngest and last survivor of 5 sisters and 2 brothers. She was a resident of Cook county all but a few years of her life. She was the mother of 10 children, of whom 8 survive her, also 20 grand children and 4 great grand children cherish her memory.

Funeral services were held at the home of her son, Mr. B. F. Stryker, on Saturday afternoon. Rev. Andrews of Deerfield assisted by Mr. Clayton Fair, and his sister, conducted the services. Interment was made in Wheeling cemetery.

Those whose privilege it was to personally know Mrs. Stryker, have experienced the soundness of the words of the poet who said:

"No life can be pure in its purpose and strong in its strife, And all life not be purer and stronger thereby."

Dolores Costello in Geo. Ade's Comedy Norshore

Dolores Costello comes to the Norshore theatre next week for a week's run in "The College Widow," revival of George Ade's tremendous stage hit of several years ago. Miss Costello is cast as the daughter of a college president, who is about to lose his job because of his inability to interest athletes in coming to the institution. A promised gift is also to be forfeited for the same reason. The pretty and wilful lady decides to make things move, and by her personal charm wins a football team which sweeps her father's college to victory and his job to security. Each man in the "fam thinks he is the girl's favorite" and when her duplicity is disclosed high jinks follow. "The College Widow" is without doubt the most thoroughly delightful college play ever written and the film is even better than the stage version.

Al Kvale will offer a novelty stage revue called "Bars and Stripes" in which a series of pleasant surprises are promised. Al and his popular orchestra will play a medley of the season's outstanding song hits and then introduce a lavish cast of talent.

A Kansas City church got all ready to put on a prize fight. One of the lady members turned off the lights, and they had to give it up.

THEY COULD MAKE GOOD Parents sometimes feel that the school and college courses which their children are taking are too hard, and that their health will be threatened by overstudy if they dig into them enough to pass. But if you talk with the general run of students, they will be apt to admit that the lessons can be learned by boys and girls of ordinary ability, and if they fail to pass, the reason is simply that they have not worked.

Many boys and girls waste time in idle dreaming. They seem to pin their minds down to effort.
The life that is going on around them, the automobiles and the sports and the fun of school affairs, seem so fascinating that it takes up their attention.

Some of them look out of the windows and watch the birds flying in the trees and the automobiles passing in the streets, and they can not get their minds on their lessons. But people have to pin their minds down to the things they are doing, or they will never get anywhere.

AT THE CHURCH SUPPERS

The social rooms of thousands of churches all over the land are humming with activity about now, as the women folks prepare the wonderful suppers that are so large a feature of church activities in Illinois. It is wonderful how these suppers break up cold feelings and help people get acquainted.

The strangers may feel lonely and uncertain about their welcome in a community. But when they drift into those suppers and see the women toiling and striving to furnish the very best hand-out ever known, and everyone disposed to make friends with all the new acquaintances, then it is unanimously voted that people are glad they live here.

Some people may think that suppers are not an essential part of church work. And yet anything that so promotes friendly feeling and makes life happier for a lot of people, is a valuable form of community service.

Odd Wedding Ceremony

One of the most curious wedding ceremonies in the world is that in vogue among a certain race of dwarfs inhabiting the Anaman islands. The two parties climb two flexible trees growing near each other, which an old man then makes bend toward each other.
When the head of the man touches that of the girl, they are legally married.

ENTHUSIASM

Where you find a bright and growing business, or an advancing community, you always find some enthusiastic people. They are sanguine, hopeful and confident.
They speak in warm terms of their home community. They see its fine achievements and its admirable people. They praise its advantages and utter no words of detraction.

They are confident and hopeful about prospects in their own business. They see everything in bright colors. While that spirit can be overcome and may be exemplified with lack of judgment, it is one that promotes support and cooperation. People buy goods of a salesman of that type. They like to move into a town that is full of that kind of folks. Things go ahead faster in that kind of a town.

THE STUDENT'S DISTRACTIONS

After boys and girls go through the period when they are tempted to idle dreaming, they get up to an age where they are fascinated by the social life and the athletics of schools and colleges. They will admit that they ought to learn, but if there is a ball game or a dance during some time when there is a lesson to be learned, they cut the lessons and take a chance that they will not be questioned on that subject at that time.

They perhaps get by a few times, and then some test comes and it appears that they have been playing truant to their work. The student has to learn that his first business is study, and if he neglects that business, then his education and whole career is going to suffer.

George C. Klehm Pioneer of Niles Township Dies

Rev. J. J. Mayer, pastor of St. Peter's Evangelical church, who knew Mr. Klehm so well, prepared this obituary.

One of the old pioneers, a prosperous, self made man, a loving husband, a kind father and friend of many, passes away at 88.

Hon. George C. Klehm was born July 29, 1839 at Duedelsheim, Hesse Darmstadt, Germany. He was the second son of Paul and Katharine Klehm. His father died before George was a year old. During the year 1849 there was a famine in Germany and about 20 families from Duedelsheim left for America. Among them was the widow Klehm, with her two sons, John and George. They first settled near Buffalo, New York, where the boys worked at brick laying. In 1854 they found better employment in Chicago and settled in the town of Jefferson. George worked at his trade in summer and went to school in winter. May 31, 1860 he received a teachers' certificate, and taught school for five terms.

Aug. 6, 1864 Mr. Klehm married Eliza Harms, Jan. 1, 1865, he started in the mercantile business at Niles Center, in which he was very prosperous. Aug. 26, 1878 his wife died, leaving him with six small children. June 9, 1881 he married the now bereaved widow, Eliza Ruesch.

Mr. Klehm held many responsible public positions. He was town clerk of Niles four years; commissioner of highways six years; justice of the Peace twelve years, and township treasurer forty-six years. In 1876 he was elected member of the House of Representatives of Illinois, and was elected county commissioner in 1881.

Faithfully and conscientiously he performed all his duties in these various offices. He therefore became the friend of many who asked him for legal advice.

Many improvements in Niles township stand worthy memorials to Mr. George C. Klehm.

St. Peter's Evangelical church has reason to consider him one of its benefactors. He was one of the charter members; one of the first Sunday school teachers. With his own hands, he helped build the first church without pay. When this present church was built he served on the building committee. Only a month ago we heard his voice here in church for the last time, when he told us how pleased he was to see this beautiful picture of "Christ blessing the children" in the window, donated by his children to his honor, himself being such a great friend of children.

Father Klehm reached an old age, as he did also his mother and his brother John. During recent years his health was not good, but he always recovered, until during the last few weeks, unable to take sufficient nourishment, his strength failed and a hemorrhage took the last of his vitality. He died Sunday Nov. 6, at 4 p. m., having reached the age of 88 years, 3 months, 8 days. His departure is painfully mourned by his dear wife and ten children: Mrs. Emma H. Harter, Dr. A. Louise Klehm, George H. Klehm, Alma E. Klehm, Mrs. Florence K. Freund, Herbert L. Harter, W. and Raymond C. Klehm (one child died in infancy and one, Grace when 16 years old). Grandfather Klehm is also mourned by 9 grand children and 14 great grand children, many other relatives and a large host of friends.

The body was laid in state from 2 to 9 p. m. Tuesday in St. Peter's Evangelical church. A brief devotion was held with the family before the body was taken from the home. Funeral service Wednesday afternoon, was attended by a large audience, which gave evidence of how many friends Mr. Klehm had. Rev. Paul Hansman, the former pastor, and Rev. J. J. Mayer were speakers. Both paid ardent tributes to his ability, integrity and noble character. Interment at St. Peter's Evangelical cemetery. Rev. J. J. Mayer officiating.

Herbert I. Klehm of Ephrata, Wash., who had been away three years, arrived Saturday evening and was recognized by his father, who said, "Herbert, my son, I am glad to see you again."

Mrs. Edna Harter Jackson, granddaughter, left Butte, Montana, Monday morning and arrived at Niles Center in time for services at church Wednesday.

The Editor feels that he, like Niles Center, has lost a good friend and counsellor. During the past few years he has helped us make the Herald more popular among our many readers and patrons by his timely and accurate articles on public affairs. He told what he had to say in few words and plain language that everybody could understand. His manuscript didn't need any correction. We, like all others, who had the pleasure of his acquaintance, will ever have his memory and wise advice.

Honorary pall bearers were Messrs Reinhold Schiller, Anthony Paroubek, August Pochmann, Jacob Franz, Henry Loutsch, Samuel Meyer, William Galitz, Albert Lies.

Paul bearers were Messrs. LeRoy Hauer, Edwin Harms, Paul Peterson, Armin Mayer, Albert Harms, Jr., Elmer Galitz.

Talk and Work

It is pretty sure that the man who talks a lot doesn't do very much, and by the same token, the man who doesn't talk very much usually has the thing done by the time the other men are finished talking.—From the Kalend.
